

Worship Department Dress Code

At Wellspring, we believe that every detail matters in our worship experience and we ultimately want to represent Christ well and give Him our best. While the most important issue as a worship leader or band member is the heart, the fact that we are on stage leading our people gives us an extra measure of responsibility.

One of the ways we can minimize distractions and represent the vision and culture of Wellspring Church is by dressing appropriately on stage. Modesty is an important factor in what to wear. You are representing Christ when on stage and we do not want anyone in the church to be distracted by low-cut tops or clothing that is too tight or by your guns showing while you're sporting your favorite muscle shirt. Also, we do not want our sloppiness, whether in wrong notes played or looking like we just rolled out of bed, to distract our people from worship. It is our desire to communicate a spirit of excellence in everything we do. We also want to break the negative or traditional stereotype that many people have of church, so even what we wear helps communicate we are a different church. As a result, the following is a basic dress code if you serve on stage in the worship ministry.

A good frame of reference would be what our church staff is wearing... especially the ones who are onstage.

Men

The following are suggestions for what to wear: (This is not an all-inclusive list)

Nice T-shirts (make sure any graphics are not distracting i.e. marijuana leaves)

Hip button down long sleeve shirts

Nice jeans

What not to wear:

Sandals or flip-flops

Shorts

Dirty t-shirts

Wrinkled shirts

Too tight shirts

Team Jerseys

Tank tops

Women

The following are suggestions for what to wear: (This is not an all-inclusive list)

Trendy clothes

Nice T-shirts

Nice jeans

Long skirts

What not to wear:

Wrinkled tops

Spaghetti strap tops

Low cut tops

Flip-flops

Shirts that expose the stomach

*Since style is fairly subjective, the worship leader will have make the ultimate call on Sunday with what is appropriate. If there is an item in question, please come prepared with a back-up item of clothing.